“For the past two years, we’ve hosted our annual corporate retreat at Madden’s Resort. Each year, Madden’s has exceeded our expectations, from the first stages of planning to the day-of execution. The staff’s service and attention to detail are exceptional, the facilities are well-equipped, the amenities and activities are plentiful, and the resort itself has a great ambiance. This is the kind of place you look forward to returning to year after year – there’s truly something here for everyone!”

“Our group came to Madden’s for a conference this year because of a scheduling mix-up with our traditional location—what a happy accident! The accommodations, the food, the grounds, and the recreation all exceeded our expectations. But what really puts Madden’s over the top is their staff! They were professional, helpful, present and beyond courteous. For a comparable price, we got an incomparable experience. After this year at Madden’s, I think we have a new tradition!”

“I coordinated a conference for a client in the fall of 2017. The accommodations, meeting spaces, food and service were all excellent. Kelsey and the entire staff were flexible and their attention to detail throughout the planning and the event was much appreciated by both my client and myself. The group was made up of about 170 corporate managers and I heard nothing but good comments from those attending. Their only complaint was that they wished they could stay longer. I would definitely recommend Madden’s to anyone planning a meeting or conference.”

“Our first annual leadership retreat for Screenfeed was held at Madden’s and was a phenomenal success. My team loved their accommodations, food and the meeting space provided. We loved the view of the lake as we worked through the day and it was great to take breaks and get outside. The available team activities was a big plus, helping us hit our target for focused planning time as well as getting to know each other just a bit better. We look forward to returning!”

“My group has been hosting meetings at Madden’s for many, many years. We find that the various facilities are very adaptable for the smallest to our largest groups. For our largest event, we require concurrently general session space for 300, exhibit space for 80 booths, and space for 6 breakout sessions, and Madden’s accommodates this easily. The campus is beautiful and the lodging is updated and very comfortable, with all of the amenities anyone might require. The staff is extremely service-oriented and very stable. We have been working with the same great people for years. Technology has become more and more important in our meeting venues, especially since we have been using a meeting app exclusively, and Madden’s infrastructure is more than capable of handling many people using multiple devices—and their convention staff can trouble shoot just about anything that might come up. Of course, anyone who plans events knows how important food is to their participants and Madden’s cuisine is exceptional. When meeting time is over, participants appreciate the chance to golf, swim, play croquet, or take advantage of any of the recreational features of the resort. We enthusiastically recommend Madden’s for any event.”

“Our 250 conference attendees have had an exceptionally enjoyable experience at our annual conference at Madden’s. Planning the conference logistics with our conference planner is always an enjoyable and stress-free experience as she is responsive to the myriad issues that arise with our event plan. She always has creative ideas and solutions to address the seemingly monumental task of making sure 250 people get through 3 days of programming and meals with minimal confusion. Madden’s has ample, comfortable conference space for whole group sessions as well as break-out room capacity for smaller groups so we can be creative with our course offerings. The many technological upgrades Madden’s has made over the years has made our choice to move to a paperless conference relatively seamless and the minute by minute responsive assistance we have received from the friendly staff reassures us that Madden’s aims to be a first rate conference center. Our conference attendees repeatedly rave about the quality of the healthy meal options and consistently give the highest marks to the various lodging options available. Our many first-rate experiences at Madden’s have made it an easy choice to return annually.”

“Madden’s continues to update for a clean and comfortable feel. “Strong customer service and attention to details makes the experience at Madden’s Resort like none other. Madden’s Resort produces lasting memories for their customers. The Madden’s team goes above and beyond to take care of every detail. We continue to return to Madden’s Resort because they continue to raise the bar; we truly appreciate everything the Madden’s team does for our company meetings, banquet, and retreat. IMPECCABLE food.”

“Over a period of 9 years, we have hosted over 20 conferences at Madden’s and the team has been an absolute pleasure to work with. From the Thuringers, to the event managers, and to the conference services team, their customer service is first in class. I can’t say enough about the warm environment and how they truly treat you like family.”

“We typically host 20 to 25 events each year for our customers, at a variety of resorts throughout the United States. This year we held our first event at Madden’s, and it was by far one of the most coveted events that we have hosted in recent years. Importantly, this reaction is from our customers, as well as our meeting planning team. A couple of notable high points – the staff at Madden’s leaves no stone unturned. During the planning process, they were not only extremely responsive, but also went a step further by anticipating our needs, and proactively offered up solutions that showed their flexibility and attention to detail. Next, the resort is top-notch, whether staying in the beautifully appointed cabins or cruising in one of their pontoon boats. Finally, the activities were plentiful, varied and well-run. Madden’s is high on our list for future events!”
